L M TERRY	425	10	No specific decision requested, however submitter notes: No control on foreshore development.	Reject
TE IWI O NGATI TUKOREHE TRUST	461	5	To date, the Horowhenua coastal region has not experienced such proposed peri-urban development with likely adverse impacts. Local authorities need to carefully scrutinise coastal landscape from an integrated, valued landscape perspective, and propose developments that do not stabilise the unique coastal dynamic dune systems of the Horowhenua coastline	Reject
MANAWATU BRANCH OF N Z GREEN PARTY	433	42b	Add to this section that there should be no building on sand dunes, other coastal features such as wetlands, or anywhere inside 500m of mean spring high tide except for surf lifesaving clubrooms and other vital services.	Reject
TARANAKI / WHANGANUI CONSERVATION BOARD	374	7	No specific decision requested, however submitter notes: The list of issues says nothing about impacts of development pressures on coast. This should be explicitly mentioned under Coast. The plan, its objectives and policies should make provision for both the natural processes, and the activities of people which impact on the stability of the very fragile ecosystems. Biodiversity issues should also be included in the section under - Coast (9) Protecting the natural coastal herbfields, and the ephemeral wetlands to ensure the survival of the unique and endangered flora and fauna. (and also the protection of Natural features and landscapes). Protecting our outstanding and important natural features, flora, fauna and landscapes is important	Reject

NEW ZEALAND HISTORIC PLACES TRUST – CENTRAL REGION	353	29	The NZHPT would reiterate that Horizons Regional Council needs to prepare a separate Regional Coastal Plan for Manawatu/Wanganui, rather than including it as a component part of the proposed One Plan. The NZHPT acknowledges, that the present Coast (9) and Activities in the Coastal Marine Area (CMA) (17). Sections of the proposed One Plan do include some useful material, which can form the basis of the separate Regional Coastal Plan document. Such sections in themselves, however, are inadequate given Regional Coastal Plans are compulsory documents pursuant to Section 64(1) of the RMA , and the means by which activities are the means by which resource use in the CMA is regulated. 3. Chapter 9 Paragraph 9.1.1 Scope

Submitter	No.	Point	Decision sought	Decision
MERIDIAN ENERGY LIMITED	363	125	Meridian supports the Scope and Background and requests that better recognition is provided to renewable energy in the coastal marine area, and the following amendment is included in Section 9.1 or similar: Renewable Energy The positive benefits that can be derived from renewable energy generation must be recognised when considering policies and rules that may affect their establishment and operation. The RMA defines renewable energy as energy produced from solar, wind, hydro, geothermal, biomass, tidal, wave and ocean current sources. The use and development of renewable energy can be in a number of different forms. Of the different renewable energy options, the coastal marine options (tidal, wave and ocean current sources) are moving towards making a valuable contribution to energy supply, but are yet to be developed to a commercially viable state. It is expected that within the next 10 years these options will be commercially viable for renewable energy companies. Computer modelling and remote sensing are both vital, but they must be underpinned by in situ measurements. Bathymetric, current, and wave data are all needed to help define where it might be economic to install wave and tidal energy devices, and how to minimise environmental effects. An immediate challenge for New Zealand is to begin wave	Accept in part
